How to read this report

This report is built from Maya's birth data: 1992-09-03 at 08:15 in Chicago, USA. Planet positions are calculated with the astronomy-engine ephemeris (accurate to well under a degree); houses use the Placidus system.

Astrology is a symbolic language. Read each section as a set of questions to reflect on rather than as fixed facts about who you are or what will happen.

How the report is organised

- Your personal synthesis: how the main placements work together.
- Chart at a glance: a table of every placement, your element balance and aspect patterns.
- One page for each planet: sign, degree, house, motion, every aspect it makes (with orb) and what it means, plus reflection prompts.
- The twelve houses with their rulers and occupants, the aspect table, the North Node, then love, career and a 12-month transit outlook.

Three ideas to hold onto

- Sign says how: the style a planet acts in. House says where: the area of life it shows up in. Aspects say who it talks to: how the planets support or challenge each other.
- Tension is not bad news. Squares and oppositions are the engines of a chart; trines and sextiles are talents you have to choose to use.
- A chart describes tendencies and themes. What you do with them is yours.

Your birth time is known, so this report includes your Ascendant, Midheaven and all twelve houses.

Your personal synthesis

Sun in Virgo. You make things better. Your Virgo Sun notices what others miss and finds meaning in being useful and skilled. Your growth edge is turning that precise eye kindly on yourself and calling something finished. Moon in Sagittarius. You need freedom, optimism and room to roam. Feeling trapped is your hardest emotion. Travel, learning, laughter and a big-picture view help you through rough patches. Libra rising. You come across as charming, polite and easy to talk to. You meet the world through relationships and good manners. People find you diplomatic.

Sun in Virgo, 12th house

Placement

Maya's Sun is at 11°17 Virgo in Virgo (Earth, Mutable), in the 12th house.

What Sun stands for

The Sun is the centre of the chart: your vitality, your sense of purpose and the part of you that wants to be seen and recognised. It describes what you are growing into over a lifetime rather than what you are born knowing how to do.

Sun in Virgo

You make things better. Your Virgo Sun notices what others miss and finds meaning in being useful and skilled. Your growth edge is turning that precise eye kindly on yourself and calling something finished.

Virgo brings precision, usefulness and a talent for improving things. The stretch for this placement is accepting good enough, in yourself most of all. Virgo is ruled by Mercury, which sits in Virgo in your 11th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by how you think and talk.

Sun in the 12th house

The twelfth house is rest and the unconscious: solitude, sleep, dreams, retreat and the things you do behind the scenes. It can also hold old patterns that run quietly. With Sun here, identity, vitality and purpose is most active around rest, solitude and the unconscious. Reflect on this: What do I need to let go of or forgive to feel lighter?

Aspects to Sun

- Sun flows easily with Uranus (orb 2.9°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you break the mould. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (tight aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.
- Sun pushes against Moon (orb 4.6°): who you are becoming pushes against what makes you feel safe. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (moderate aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Sun flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.1°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (wide aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: A clear centre of gravity; people sense what you stand for.
- Watch for: Over-identifying with an image of yourself, or waiting for approval before you act.

Reflection prompts

- When do I feel most like myself, and what was I doing?
- Which of my goals am I pursuing because they are mine, not because they impress people?
- What would I do this month if I trusted my own direction?

Moon in Sagittarius, 3rd house

Placement

Maya's Moon is at 6°41 Sagittarius in Sagittarius (Fire, Mutable), in the 3rd house.

What Moon stands for

The Moon is your emotional home base: your instinctive reactions, what you need in order to feel safe, and how you comfort yourself and others. It changes sign every two and a half days, which is why an exact birth time matters for it.

Moon in Sagittarius

You need freedom, optimism and room to roam. Feeling trapped is your hardest emotion. Travel, learning, laughter and a big-picture view help you through rough patches.

Sagittarius brings optimism, honesty and a hunger for meaning. The stretch for this placement is commitment to details and to other people's pace. Sagittarius is ruled by Jupiter, which sits in Virgo in your 12th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by where life expands.

Moon in the 3rd house

The third house is everyday mind and movement: siblings, neighbours, short trips, writing, speaking and early learning. With Moon here, emotions, needs and instinct is most active around communication, siblings and daily learning. Reflect on this: Which conversations or skills would grow if I gave them regular attention?

Aspects to Moon

- Moon supports Venus (orb 3.1°): what makes you feel safe supports how you love and what you value. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Moon supports Ascendant (orb 3.5°): what makes you feel safe supports how you meet the world. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Sun pushes against Moon (orb 4.6°): who you are becoming pushes against what makes you feel safe. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (moderate aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Moon pushes against Mercury (orb 6.3°): what makes you feel safe pushes against how you think and talk. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Moon supports Saturn (orb 6.6°): what makes you feel safe supports where you build slowly and for keeps. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (wide aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: A reliable inner compass for what feels nourishing.

- Watch for: Reacting from old habits of comfort, such as withdrawing, over-giving or snacking on distraction, instead of naming the need.

Reflection prompts

- What do I need when I am stressed, and have I ever said it out loud?
- Which routines make my days feel safe?
- Whose emotions do I absorb that are not mine?

Libra rising: your Ascendant

Placement

Maya's Ascendant is at 3°10 Libra. The Descendant, opposite it, is at 3°10 Aries. The Midheaven is at 3°43 Cancer and the Imum Coeli (the root of the chart) at 3°43 Capricorn.

What the Ascendant stands for

The Ascendant is the sign that was rising on the eastern horizon when you were born. It describes your manner, the first impression you make, and the lens through which you meet new situations. It is the doorway to the chart, so planets close to it are very visible.

Libra rising

You come across as charming, polite and easy to talk to. You meet the world through relationships and good manners. People find you diplomatic.

Libra brings diplomacy, fairness and a feel for balance and beauty. The stretch is making decisions without waiting for everyone's approval.

Your chart ruler: Venus

The ruler of the Ascendant is called the chart ruler, and it acts as a guide to the whole chart. Yours is Venus, in Libra in the 1st house. Following this planet shows where your life energy tends to flow: how you love and what you value, especially around self, body and first impressions.

Aspects to the Ascendant

- Venus fuses Ascendant (orb 0.4°): how you love and what you value fuses how you meet the world. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse. (exact aspect.) Treat the two as one voice; notice when they speak together and whether that fits the moment.
- Moon supports Ascendant (orb 3.5°): what makes you feel safe supports how you meet the world. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- North Node pushes against Ascendant (orb 6.4°): the direction that stretches you pushes against how you meet the world. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.

Reflection prompts

- How do close friends describe me compared with how strangers describe me?
- Which Libra habits help me, and which have I outgrown?
- What impression do I want to make, and what is my body language doing?

Mercury in Virgo, 11th house

Placement

Maya's Mercury is at 0°25 Virgo in Virgo (Earth, Mutable), in the 11th house.

What Mercury stands for

Mercury is the mind and its messenger: how you take in information, how you reason, how you speak and write, and how you learn. It is never more than 28 degrees from the Sun, so it always shares the Sun's sign or a neighbouring one.

Mercury in Virgo

Mercury is at home here. Your mind is precise, analytical and practical; you notice errors, details and better ways of doing things. Overthinking is your stress signal. Your edge is kindness in how you deliver a correction.

Virgo brings precision, usefulness and a talent for improving things. The stretch for this placement is accepting good enough, in yourself most of all. Virgo is ruled by Mercury, so this placement rules itself: it is in its home sign and acts with unusual confidence.

Mercury in the 11th house

The eleventh house is community: friends, networks, groups and the hopes you share with them. It shows who your people are and what future you are working toward. With Mercury here, thinking, speech and learning is most active around friends, community and hopes. Reflect on this: Which group or friendship feeds my goals rather than draining them?

Aspects to Mercury

- Mercury supports Midheaven (orb 3.3°): how you think and talk supports what you are known for. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Mercury flows easily with North Node (orb 3.7°): how you think and talk flows easily with the direction that stretches you. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (moderate aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.
- Moon pushes against Mercury (orb 6.3°): what makes you feel safe pushes against how you think and talk. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: A distinctive way of thinking that you can learn to trust.
- Watch for: Mistaking a thought for a fact, or saying the clever thing instead of the true one.

Reflection prompts

- How do I learn fastest: by reading, listening, doing or talking?
- What conversation have I been rehearsing instead of having?
- Which of my beliefs would I like to test this year?

Venus in Libra, 1st house

Placement

Maya's Venus is at 3°32 Libra in Libra (Air, Cardinal), in the 1st house.

What Venus stands for

Venus rules love, beauty, pleasure and values: what you are drawn to, how you show affection, and what you consider worth your time and money. In a chart it is the main clue to your style in attraction and friendship.

Venus in Libra

Venus is at home here. You love harmony, beauty and partnership, and you bring grace to relationships. Fairness matters. Make sure you are choosing, not only being chosen.

Libra brings diplomacy, fairness and a feel for balance and beauty. The stretch for this placement is making decisions without waiting for everyone's approval. Libra is ruled by Venus, so this placement rules itself: it is in its home sign and acts with unusual confidence.

Venus in the 1st house

The first house is the doorway of the chart: your body, your manner, your instinctive way of starting things. Planets here are on the surface; people notice them before they know you. With Venus here, love, taste and values is most active around self, body and first impressions. Reflect on this: How do people describe their first impression of me, and is it fair?

Aspects to Venus

- Venus pushes against Midheaven (orb 0.2°): how you love and what you value pushes against what you are known for. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (exact aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Venus fuses Ascendant (orb 0.4°): how you love and what you value fuses how you meet the world. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse. (exact aspect.) Treat the two as one voice; notice when they speak together and whether that fits the moment.
- Moon supports Venus (orb 3.1°): what makes you feel safe supports how you love and what you value. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Venus pushes against North Node (orb 6.8°): how you love and what you value pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: A natural sense of what is lovely, harmonious and worth keeping.
- Watch for: Avoiding conflict to keep the peace, or tying your worth to being liked.

Reflection prompts

- What makes me feel loved on an ordinary day?
- What do I spend on that I do not actually value, and the reverse?
- Where do I say yes when I mean no?

Mars in Gemini, 9th house

Placement

Maya's Mars is at 24°55 Gemini in Gemini (Air, Mutable), in the 9th house.

What Mars stands for

Mars is drive: desire, courage, anger and the way you go after what you want. It shows how you start things, how you fight, and where your physical energy naturally goes.

Mars in Gemini

You fight with words and act on curiosity. You run several projects at once and win arguments with speed and wit. Your energy scatters when bored. Your edge is finishing one thing before you chase the next idea.

Gemini brings curiosity, wit and the ability to see two sides. The stretch for this placement is depth and follow-through on a single thread. Gemini is ruled by Mercury, which sits in Virgo in your 11th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by how you think and talk.

Mars in the 9th house

The ninth house is the long road: travel, higher education, philosophy, publishing and the beliefs you live by. With Mars here, drive, desire and anger is most active around travel, study and beliefs. Reflect on this: What would I study or explore if time and money were not issues?

Aspects to Mars

- Mars pulls against North Node (orb 1.8°): how you go after what you want pulls against the direction that stretches you. Two needs to balance rather than choose between, often played out through other people. (tight aspect.) Notice which pole you over-identify with and which you hand to other people; practise holding both.
- Mars pushes against Jupiter (orb 2.9°): how you go after what you want pushes against where life expands. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (tight aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Initiative, stamina and the ability to say no cleanly.
- Watch for: Impatience, picking fights, or swallowing anger until it leaks out sideways.

Reflection prompts

- What do I want right now that I have not admitted?
- How do I behave when I am angry, and what would I like to do instead?
- What kind of exercise or challenge restores my energy?

Jupiter in Virgo, 12th house

Placement

Maya's Jupiter is at 22°02 Virgo in Virgo (Earth, Mutable), in the 12th house.

What Jupiter stands for

Jupiter is growth, optimism and meaning: where life tends to open up for you, what you believe in, and how you learn from experience. It takes about twelve years to circle the zodiac, so it spends roughly a year in each sign.

Jupiter in Virgo

Growth comes through skill, service and refining your methods.

Virgo brings precision, usefulness and a talent for improving things. The stretch for this placement is accepting good enough, in yourself most of all. Virgo is ruled by Mercury, which sits in Virgo in your 11th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by how you think and talk.

Jupiter in the 12th house

The twelfth house is rest and the unconscious: solitude, sleep, dreams, retreat and the things you do behind the scenes. It can also hold old patterns that run quietly. With Jupiter here, growth, luck and belief is most active around rest, solitude and the unconscious. Reflect on this: What do I need to let go of or forgive to feel lighter?

Aspects to Jupiter

- Jupiter supports Pluto (orb 1.6°): where life expands supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (tight aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Mars pushes against Jupiter (orb 2.9°): how you go after what you want pushes against where life expands. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (tight aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Jupiter pushes against North Node (orb 4.7°): where life expands pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (moderate aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Jupiter flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.7°): where life expands flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (wide aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Faith that effort will be rewarded, and the ability to inspire it in others.
- Watch for: Overpromising, excess, or assuming things will work out without a plan.

Reflection prompts

- Where have I been lucky, and what did I do to make room for it?
- What do I believe that gives me courage?

- Where could I say 'enough' and enjoy what I already have?

Saturn in Aquarius (R), 5th house

Placement

Maya's Saturn is at 13°14 Aquarius in Aquarius (Air, Fixed), in the 5th house, and it is retrograde.

What Saturn stands for

Saturn is structure, discipline and time: where you feel tested, where you build slowly, and where you earn mastery. It rewards patience and honesty about limits, and takes about 29 years to complete a lap of the chart.

Saturn in Aquarius

The lesson is belonging: being yourself while still committing to a group or cause.

Aquarius brings independence, originality and a wider view of what could be. The stretch for this placement is staying emotionally present, not just intellectually interested. Aquarius is ruled by Uranus, which sits in Capricorn in your 4th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by where you break the mould.

Saturn in the 5th house

The fifth house is joy and self-expression: creativity, romance, play, hobbies and children. It is where you do things purely because they delight you. With Saturn here, discipline, limits and mastery is most active around creativity, romance and play. Reflect on this: When did I last do something just for the fun of it?

Retrograde

Saturn retrograde at birth often means you carry an unusually strong inner critic and sense of responsibility; authority is something you have to define for yourself, and mastery tends to arrive in the second half of life.

Aspects to Saturn

- Moon supports Saturn (orb 6.6°): what makes you feel safe supports where you build slowly and for keeps. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (wide aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Staying power: once you commit, you can be relied on.
- Watch for: Harsh self-criticism, fear of failure, or believing you must earn rest.

Reflection prompts

- Where do I hold myself to a standard no one else set?
- What commitment would I be proud to keep for five more years?
- What fear is really a boundary I have not drawn?

Uranus in Capricorn (R), 4th house

Placement

Maya's Uranus is at 14°12 Capricorn in Capricorn (Earth, Cardinal), in the 4th house, and it is retrograde.

What Uranus stands for

Uranus is the urge to break free: originality, sudden change and the part of you that refuses to be put in a box. It stays about seven years in a sign, so it describes a generation as much as an individual.

Uranus in Capricorn

Your generation reinvents money, work and the physical world, often through new systems and technology. Maya's Uranus in Capricorn adds a ambitiously, responsibly and for the long game flavour to change, freedom and originality; because millions of people share this sign, the house and aspects below are what make it personal.

Capricorn brings ambition, reliability and long-range planning. The stretch for this placement is rest, play and asking for support. Capricorn is ruled by Saturn, which sits in Aquarius in your 5th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by where you build slowly and for keeps.

Uranus in the 4th house

The fourth house is the foundation: home, family, roots and your private emotional life. It sits at the bottom of the chart, the part of you the world rarely sees. With Uranus here, change, freedom and originality is most active around home, family and roots. Reflect on this: What does 'home' need to feel like for me to relax?

Retrograde

Uranus is retrograde for about five months every year, so about 40 percent of people are born with it retrograde. It makes the urge to change more inward and personal than public.

Aspects to Uranus

- Uranus fuses Neptune (orb 2.1°): where you break the mould fuses where you dissolve boundaries. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse. (tight aspect.) Treat the two as one voice; notice when they speak together and whether that fits the moment.
- Sun flows easily with Uranus (orb 2.9°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you break the mould. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (tight aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Originality and the nerve to do things differently.
- Watch for: Rebelling for its own sake, or cutting ties instead of negotiating.

Reflection prompts

- Where in my life do I feel boxed in?
- What small unconventional experiment could I try this month?
- Which tie do I want to loosen, and which to renew?

Neptune in Capricorn (R), 4th house

Placement

Maya's Neptune is at 16°20 Capricorn in Capricorn (Earth, Cardinal), in the 4th house, and it is retrograde.

What Neptune stands for

Neptune is imagination, intuition and idealism, and also confusion and escape. It spends about fourteen years in a sign, so its sign belongs to a generation, while its house and aspects show where you personally dream.

Neptune in Capricorn

Your generation idealises, then rebuilds, the material world: work, money and the body. Maya's Neptune in Capricorn adds a ambitiously, responsibly and for the long game flavour to dreams, ideals and intuition; because millions of people share this sign, the house and aspects below are what make it personal.

Capricorn brings ambition, reliability and long-range planning. The stretch for this placement is rest, play and asking for support. Capricorn is ruled by Saturn, which sits in Aquarius in your 5th house: how this placement plays out is coloured by where you build slowly and for keeps.

Neptune in the 4th house

The fourth house is the foundation: home, family, roots and your private emotional life. It sits at the bottom of the chart, the part of you the world rarely sees. With Neptune here, dreams, ideals and intuition is most active around home, family and roots. Reflect on this: What does 'home' need to feel like for me to relax?

Retrograde

Neptune is retrograde for about five months every year. Natally it often means intuition is more private and spiritual views are self-made rather than borrowed.

Aspects to Neptune

- Uranus fuses Neptune (orb 2.1°): where you break the mould fuses where you dissolve boundaries. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse. (tight aspect.) Treat the two as one voice; notice when they speak together and whether that fits the moment.
- Neptune supports Pluto (orb 4.1°): where you dissolve boundaries supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Sun flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.1°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (wide aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.
- Jupiter flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.7°): where life expands flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (wide aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Compassion, artistry and a feel for what cannot be put into words.
- Watch for: Rose-tinted vision, vague boundaries, or escaping through fantasy.

Reflection prompts

- What ideal am I serving, and is it still true?
- Where do I rescue people instead of respecting them?
- How could I give my imagination a regular outlet?

Pluto in Scorpio, 2nd house

Placement

Maya's Pluto is at 20°29 Scorpio in Scorpio (Water, Fixed), in the 2nd house.

What Pluto stands for

Pluto is depth, power and transformation: what you cannot ignore, what has to die so something truer can grow, and how you handle control and intensity. It spends 12 to 30 years in a sign, so its sign is generational.

Pluto in Scorpio

Your generation transforms emotional bonds, family and what we do with the unseen. Maya's Pluto in Scorpio adds a intensely, privately and all the way down flavour to power, depth and transformation; because millions of people share this sign, the house and aspects below are what make it personal.

Scorpio brings intensity, loyalty and emotional honesty. The stretch for this placement is trusting without testing, and releasing control. Scorpio is ruled by Pluto, so this placement rules itself: it is in its home sign and acts with unusual confidence.

Pluto in the 2nd house

The second house covers money you earn, possessions, and the deeper question of self-worth: what you value and what you will trade your time for. With Pluto here, power, depth and transformation is most active around money, possessions and self-worth. Reflect on this: What do I need to feel financially and materially secure?

Aspects to Pluto

- Jupiter supports Pluto (orb 1.6°): where life expands supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (tight aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.
- Neptune supports Pluto (orb 4.1°): where you dissolve boundaries supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose. (moderate aspect.) This is an opportunity, not an automatic gift: use it deliberately, for example by starting small projects that combine the two.

Strengths and watch-points

- Gift: Resilience and the ability to start over honestly.
- Watch for: All-or-nothing thinking, control, or holding grudges.

Reflection prompts

- What have I outgrown that I keep protecting?
- How do I act when I feel powerless?
- What would I do differently if I trusted myself to survive change?

Houses 1 to 4: self, money, mind and home

1st house: self, body and first impressions

The first house is the doorway of the chart: your body, your manner, your instinctive way of starting things. Planets here are on the surface; people notice them before they know you. It begins at 3°10 Libra, so Libra sets its tone: gracefully, fairly and through partnership. Its ruler is Venus, in Libra in the 1st house, which links this area of life to self, body and first impressions.

Occupants: Venus in Libra. This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

2nd house: money, possessions and self-worth

The second house covers money you earn, possessions, and the deeper question of self-worth: what you value and what you will trade your time for. It begins at 29°16 Libra, so Libra sets its tone: gracefully, fairly and through partnership. Its ruler is Venus, in Libra in the 1st house, which links this area of life to self, body and first impressions.

Occupants: Pluto in Scorpio. This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

3rd house: communication, siblings and daily learning

The third house is everyday mind and movement: siblings, neighbours, short trips, writing, speaking and early learning. It begins at 29°50 Scorpio, so Scorpio sets its tone: intensely, privately and all the way down. Its ruler is Pluto, in Scorpio in the 2nd house, which links this area of life to money, possessions and self-worth.

Occupants: Moon in Sagittarius; the North Node (a growth direction). This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

4th house: home, family and roots

The fourth house is the foundation: home, family, roots and your private emotional life. It sits at the bottom of the chart, the part of you the world rarely sees. It begins at 3°43 Capricorn, so Capricorn sets its tone: ambitiously, responsibly and for the long game. Its ruler is Saturn, in Aquarius in the 5th house, which links this area of life to creativity, romance and play.

Occupants: Uranus in Capricorn; Neptune in Capricorn. With several planets here, this is a busy, important area.

Houses 5 to 8: joy, work, partners and depth

5th house: creativity, romance and play

The fifth house is joy and self-expression: creativity, romance, play, hobbies and children. It is where you do things purely because they delight you. It begins at 7°26 Aquarius, so Aquarius sets its tone: independently, inventively and for the group. Its ruler is Uranus, in Capricorn in the 4th house, which links this area of life to home, family and roots.

Occupants: Saturn in Aquarius. This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

6th house: work routines, health and service

The sixth house governs daily work, routines, health habits and service. It is the maintenance department of life: small repeated actions that add up. It begins at 7°37 Pisces, so Pisces sets its tone: gently, imaginatively and with deep empathy. Its ruler is Neptune, in Capricorn in the 4th house, which links this area of life to home, family and roots.

Occupants: none. An empty house is not an empty life; read it through its ruler above.

7th house: partnership and one-to-one relationships

The seventh house is the house of one-to-one partnership: marriage, business partners, close friends and even open rivals. It shows what you seek in others and what you project onto them. It begins at 3°10 Aries, so Aries sets its tone: directly, quickly and with courage. Its ruler is Mars, in Gemini in the 9th house, which links this area of life to travel, study and beliefs.

Occupants: none. An empty house is not an empty life; read it through its ruler above.

8th house: intimacy, shared resources and transformation

The eighth house covers intimacy, shared money, inheritance, loss and psychological change. It is where two lives merge and where you face what is hidden. It begins at 29°16 Aries, so Aries sets its tone: directly, quickly and with courage. Its ruler is Mars, in Gemini in the 9th house, which links this area of life to travel, study and beliefs.

Occupants: none. An empty house is not an empty life; read it through its ruler above.

Houses 9 to 12: horizons, career, friends and rest

9th house: travel, study and beliefs

The ninth house is the long road: travel, higher education, philosophy, publishing and the beliefs you live by. It begins at 29°50 Taurus, so Taurus sets its tone: steadily, sensually and with patience. Its ruler is Venus, in Libra in the 1st house, which links this area of life to self, body and first impressions.

Occupants: Mars in Gemini. This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

10th house: career, reputation and public life

The tenth house sits at the top of the chart: career, reputation and the public role you grow into. It describes what you want to be known for. It begins at 3°43 Cancer, so Cancer sets its tone: protectively, intuitively and through care. Its ruler is Moon, in Sagittarius in the 3rd house, which links this area of life to communication, siblings and daily learning.

Occupants: none. An empty house is not an empty life; read it through its ruler above.

11th house: friends, community and hopes

The eleventh house is community: friends, networks, groups and the hopes you share with them. It shows who your people are and what future you are working toward. It begins at 7°26 Leo, so Leo sets its tone: warmly, generously and with a flair for being seen. Its ruler is Sun, in Virgo in the 12th house, which links this area of life to rest, solitude and the unconscious.

Occupants: Mercury in Virgo. This planet brings its themes straight into this part of life.

12th house: rest, solitude and the unconscious

The twelfth house is rest and the unconscious: solitude, sleep, dreams, retreat and the things you do behind the scenes. It can also hold old patterns that run quietly. It begins at 7°37 Virgo, so Virgo sets its tone: carefully, practically and by improving things. Its ruler is Mercury, in Virgo in the 11th house, which links this area of life to friends, community and hopes.

Occupants: Sun in Virgo; Jupiter in Virgo. With several planets here, this is a busy, important area.

Element and modality balance

Earth leads: you are practical, steady and focused on real results. Little fire: motivation can need outside sparks; movement and play help.

Counted across the ten planets and the Ascendant: Fire 1, Earth 5, Air 4, Water 1; Cardinal 4, Fixed 2, Mutable 5.

Elements

- Fire is spirit and motivation: courage, enthusiasm, the drive to act.
- Earth is substance: patience, the body, money and results you can touch.
- Air is mind and exchange: ideas, conversation, perspective and connection.
- Water is feeling: intuition, empathy, memory and emotional bonds.

Every element is represented, which gives you a broad range of responses to life.

Modalities

Mutable leads: you are an adapter. You are flexible, curious and good at reading a room; your growth edge is finishing and committing.

Planets by element and modality

- Sun: Earth, Mutable.
- Moon: Fire, Mutable.
- Mercury: Earth, Mutable.
- Venus: Air, Cardinal.
- Mars: Air, Mutable.
- Jupiter: Earth, Mutable.
- Saturn: Air, Fixed.
- Uranus: Earth, Cardinal.
- Neptune: Earth, Cardinal.
- Pluto: Water, Fixed.

Aspect table

Maya's chart has 21 major aspects within standard orbs. The list runs from the tightest (strongest) to the widest.

Reading it: tight aspects (under 3 degrees) are among the loudest voices in your chart. Flowing aspects are talents; tension aspects are growth edges; fusions are blends you cannot separate.

Planets	Aspect	Orb	Strength	Feel
Venus Midheaven	Square	0.2 deg	exact	tension
Venus Ascendant	Conjunction	0.4 deg	exact	fusion
Jupiter Pluto	Sextile	1.6 deg	tight	flowing
Mars North Node	Opposition	1.8 deg	tight	tension
Uranus Neptune	Conjunction	2.1 deg	tight	fusion
Sun Uranus	Trine	2.9 deg	tight	flowing
Mars Jupiter	Square	2.9 deg	tight	tension
Moon Venus	Sextile	3.1 deg	moderate	flowing
Mercury Midheaven	Sextile	3.3 deg	moderate	flowing
Moon Ascendant	Sextile	3.5 deg	moderate	flowing
Mercury North Node	Trine	3.7 deg	moderate	flowing
Neptune Pluto	Sextile	4.1 deg	moderate	flowing
Sun Moon	Square	4.6 deg	moderate	tension
Jupiter North Node	Square	4.7 deg	moderate	tension
Sun Neptune	Trine	5.1 deg	wide	flowing
Jupiter Neptune	Trine	5.7 deg	wide	flowing
Moon Mercury	Square	6.3 deg	wide	tension
North Node Ascendant	Square	6.4 deg	wide	tension
Moon Saturn	Sextile	6.6 deg	wide	flowing
Venus North Node	Square	6.8 deg	wide	tension
North Node Midheaven	Opposition	7 deg	wide	tension

Aspects in words

- Venus pushes against Midheaven (orb 0.2°): how you love and what you value pushes against what you are known for. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- Venus fuses Ascendant (orb 0.4°): how you love and what you value fuses how you meet the world. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse.
- Jupiter supports Pluto (orb 1.6°): where life expands supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.
- Mars pulls against North Node (orb 1.8°): how you go after what you want pulls against the direction that stretches you. Two needs to balance rather than choose between, often played out through other people.
- Uranus fuses Neptune (orb 2.1°): where you break the mould fuses where you dissolve boundaries. These two work as one unit in you, for better and worse.
- Sun flows easily with Uranus (orb 2.9°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you break the mould. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted.
- Mars pushes against Jupiter (orb 2.9°): how you go after what you want pushes against where life expands. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- Moon supports Venus (orb 3.1°): what makes you feel safe supports how you love and what you value. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.
- Mercury supports Midheaven (orb 3.3°): how you think and talk supports what you are known for. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.
- Moon supports Ascendant (orb 3.5°): what makes you feel safe supports how you meet the world. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.
- Mercury flows easily with North Node (orb 3.7°): how you think and talk flows easily with the direction that stretches you. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted.
- Neptune supports Pluto (orb 4.1°): where you dissolve boundaries supports where you are remade. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.
- Sun pushes against Moon (orb 4.6°): who you are becoming pushes against what makes you feel safe. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- Jupiter pushes against North Node (orb 4.7°): where life expands pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- Sun flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.1°): who you are becoming flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted.
- Jupiter flows easily with Neptune (orb 5.7°): where life expands flows easily with where you dissolve boundaries. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted.
- Moon pushes against Mercury (orb 6.3°): what makes you feel safe pushes against how you think and talk. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- North Node pushes against Ascendant (orb 6.4°): the direction that stretches you pushes against how you meet the world. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- Moon supports Saturn (orb 6.6°): what makes you feel safe supports where you build slowly and for keeps. A talent that grows when you use it on purpose.

- Venus pushes against North Node (orb 6.8°): how you love and what you value pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it.
- North Node pulls against Midheaven (orb 7°): the direction that stretches you pulls against what you are known for. Two needs to balance rather than choose between, often played out through other people.

Patterns in your chart

Patterns appear when several planets join up into a shape. They show where the chart concentrates energy or builds a shortcut between themes.

- Stellium in Virgo: Sun, Mercury, Jupiter are all in Virgo. A stellium concentrates energy: Virgo themes will feel like the main storyline of your life, and the planets involved tend to act as a team.

What we looked for

- Stellium: three or more planets in one sign or house.
- Grand trine: three planets in mutual trine, a closed circuit of ease.
- T-square: two planets in opposition, both square a third; the third is the pressure point and engine.
- Yod: two planets in sextile, both quincunx a third; a point of adjustment.

The strongest single aspect

Venus pushes against Midheaven (orb 0.2°): how you love and what you value pushes against what you are known for. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. It is the tightest in your chart, so it is a good first place to look when you want to understand yourself.

North Node in Sagittarius: your growth direction

Placement

Maya's North Node is at 26°45 Sagittarius in Sagittarius, in the 3rd house. Its opposite, the South Node, is in Gemini, in the 9th house.

What the nodes mean

The lunar nodes are the two points where the Moon's orbit crosses the Sun's path. In astrology they describe a polarity: the South Node holds familiar talents and habits, and the North Node points to qualities that feel unfamiliar but rewarding to develop.

North Node in Sagittarius

Growth comes through courage and initiative. Sagittarius brings optimism, honesty and a hunger for meaning; the practice is commitment to details and to other people's pace.

South Node in Gemini

Your comfort zone is Gemini: curiosity, wit and the ability to see two sides. These are strengths you were born with, and they are most useful when balanced with the North Node qualities, not when they become a place to hide.

House

The third house is everyday mind and movement: siblings, neighbours, short trips, writing, speaking and early learning. Growth here means leaning into communication, siblings and daily learning. Which conversations or skills would grow if I gave them regular attention?

Aspects to the Node

- Mars pulls against North Node (orb 1.8°): how you go after what you want pulls against the direction that stretches you. Two needs to balance rather than choose between, often played out through other people. (tight aspect.) Notice which pole you over-identify with and which you hand to other people; practise holding both.
- Mercury flows easily with North Node (orb 3.7°): how you think and talk flows easily with the direction that stretches you. A natural gift; the risk is taking it for granted. (moderate aspect.) It will feel effortless, so give it a job: make a goal that uses this gift rather than coasting on it.
- Jupiter pushes against North Node (orb 4.7°): where life expands pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (moderate aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- North Node pushes against Ascendant (orb 6.4°): the direction that stretches you pushes against how you meet the world. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.
- Venus pushes against North Node (orb 6.8°): how you love and what you value pushes against the direction that stretches you. A source of friction that becomes drive once you work with it. (wide aspect.) Expect friction. Write down what each side wants, then look for the action that honours both.

- North Node pulls against Midheaven (orb 7°): the direction that stretches you pulls against what you are known for. Two needs to balance rather than choose between, often played out through other people. (wide aspect.) Notice which pole you over-identify with and which you hand to other people; practise holding both.

Reflection prompts

- Where do I fall back on Gemini habits when a Sagittarius move would serve me better?
- What would a small, brave step toward the North Node look like this week?

Love and attraction

Venus: what you love and how

Venus in Libra (1st house): Venus is at home here. You love harmony, beauty and partnership, and you bring grace to relationships. Fairness matters. Make sure you are choosing, not only being chosen.

Mars: desire and pursuit

Mars in Gemini (9th house): You fight with words and act on curiosity. You run several projects at once and win arguments with speed and wit. Your energy scatters when bored. Your edge is finishing one thing before you chase the next idea.

The Moon: what you need to feel secure

Moon in Sagittarius: You need freedom, optimism and room to roam. Feeling trapped is your hardest emotion. Travel, learning, laughter and a big-picture view help you through rough patches.

The partner you attract

Your Descendant, the cusp of the 7th house, is in Aries. It describes qualities you are drawn to in close partners and often find in them: courage, speed and a willingness to go first. The 7th house ruler, Mars, sits in Gemini, and shows how partnership tends to unfold.

Patterns worth knowing

Venus and Mars do not form a close aspect, so your romantic and sexual sides tend to act separately: affection and desire may not always arrive together or be directed at the same person.

Reflection prompts

- Do I ask for what Libra Venus needs, or do I wait for people to guess?
- What does Gemini Mars do when I am attracted to someone, and is that how I want to act?
- Which pattern in past relationships would I like to change?

Career and calling

Midheaven and the 10th house

Your Midheaven is at 3°43 Cancer. Cancer sets the tone for how you want to be known: protectively, intuitively and through care, with protectiveness, intuition and emotional memory. Its ruler Moon is in Sagittarius, so your reputation grows through what makes you feel safe. Your 10th house is empty, so read it through its ruler.

The Sun: what you want to be known for

Your Sun is in Virgo in the 12th house. You make things better. Your Virgo Sun notices what others miss and finds meaning in being useful and skilled. Your growth edge is turning that precise eye kindly on yourself and calling something finished.

Saturn: where you build mastery

Saturn in Aquarius, 5th house: The lesson is belonging: being yourself while still committing to a group or cause. Mastery grows around creativity, romance and play.

Jupiter: where opportunity comes

Jupiter in Virgo, 12th house: Growth comes through skill, service and refining your methods. Opportunities tend to arrive through rest, solitude and the unconscious.

Mercury and Mars: how you work

Mercury in Virgo: Mercury is at home here. Your mind is precise, analytical and practical; you notice errors, details and better ways of doing things. Overthinking is your stress signal. Your edge is kindness in how you deliver a correction. Mars in Gemini: You fight with words and act on curiosity. You run several projects at once and win arguments with speed and wit. Your energy scatters when bored. Your edge is finishing one thing before you chase the next idea.

Reflection prompts

- If my work were a story, what would I want its theme to be?
- What would I do for free, and what would I do for money if I had to?
- Where am I ready to take responsibility that I have been avoiding?

Your next 12 months: transit overview

Transits compare today's sky with Maya's birth chart. This overview follows Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto in relation to your natal Sun, Moon, Ascendant, Midheaven, sampled on the 15th of each month. Slow planets describe the background weather of a period; they do not decide events.

The table lists where Jupiter and Saturn are each month and the exact-ish hits to your Sun, Moon and angles.

Month	Jupiter	Saturn	Hits to your chart
November 2026	Leo	Aries R	Saturn trine Moon; Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Pluto trine Ascendant
December 2026	Leo R	Aries	Saturn trine Moon; Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Pluto trine Ascendant
January 2027	Leo R	Aries	Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Pluto trine Ascendant
February 2027	Leo R	Aries	Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Neptune square Midheaven; Pluto sextile Moon
March 2027	Leo R	Aries	Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Neptune square Midheaven; Pluto sextile Moon
April 2027	Leo	Aries	Uranus trine Ascendant; Neptune trine Moon; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Neptune square Midheaven; Pluto sextile Moon
May 2027	Leo	Aries	Uranus opposition Moon; Neptune trine Moon; Pluto sextile Moon
June 2027	Leo	Aries	Uranus opposition Moon; Neptune trine Moon; Pluto sextile Moon
July 2027	Leo	Aries	Uranus opposition Moon; Neptune trine Moon; Pluto sextile Moon
August 2027	Virgo	Aries R	Jupiter square Moon; Jupiter sextile Midheaven; Uranus square Sun; Neptune trine Moon; Pluto sextile Moon
September 2027	Virgo	Aries R	Jupiter conjunction Sun; Uranus square Sun; Neptune trine Moon; Pluto sextile Moon
October 2027	Virgo	Aries R	Uranus square Sun; Neptune trine Moon; Neptune opposition Ascendant; Neptune square Midheaven; Pluto trine Ascendant

Month by month

November 2026

- Saturn trine Moon (orb 1.8°): rewards steady effort and makes commitments solid, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Uranus trine Ascendant (orb 0.9°): brings welcome surprises and freedom, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Neptune opposition Ascendant (orb 1.3°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Pluto trine Ascendant (orb 0.1°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around your identity and appearance.

Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aries (R). Venus in Libra, Mars in Leo.

December 2026

- Saturn trine Moon (orb 1.3°): rewards steady effort and makes commitments solid, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

- Neptune opposition Ascendant (orb 0.6°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Neptune square Midheaven (orb 0°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your career and reputation.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 0.2°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Leo (R), Saturn in Aries. Venus in Aquarius, Mars in Leo (retrograde: slow down before big moves).

April 2027

- Uranus trine Ascendant (orb 0.3°): brings welcome surprises and freedom, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 1.8°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Neptune opposition Ascendant (orb 1.7°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Neptune square Midheaven (orb 1.2°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your career and reputation.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 0.4°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aries. Venus in Pisces, Mars in Leo.

May 2027

- Uranus opposition Moon (orb 1.6°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 0.8°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 0.5°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aries. Venus in Taurus, Mars in Virgo.

June 2027

- Uranus opposition Moon (orb 0.2°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 0.2°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 0.2°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aries. Venus in Gemini, Mars in Virgo.

July 2027

- Uranus opposition Moon (orb 1.8°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 0°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 0.4°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aries. Venus in Cancer, Mars in Libra.

August 2027

- Jupiter square Moon (orb 2.4°): tempts you to overdo it; growth comes with a lesson in limits, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Jupiter sextile Midheaven (orb 0.6°): opens doors and brings confidence, especially around your career and reputation.
- Uranus square Sun (orb 1.7°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around identity, vitality and purpose.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 0.4°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 1.1°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Virgo, Saturn in Aries (R). Venus in Leo, Mars in Libra.

September 2027

- Jupiter conjunction Sun (orb 0.3°): starts a new 12-year cycle of growth, especially around identity, vitality and purpose.
- Uranus square Sun (orb 1.3°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around identity, vitality and purpose.
- Neptune trine Moon (orb 1.1°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Pluto sextile Moon (orb 1.7°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.

Jupiter in Virgo, Saturn in Aries (R). Venus in Libra, Mars in Scorpio.

October 2027

- Uranus square Sun (orb 1.7°): shakes things loose; expect the unexpected, especially around identity, vitality and purpose.

- Neptune trine Moon (orb 1.9°): inspires imagination and compassion, especially around emotions, needs and instinct.
- Neptune opposition Ascendant (orb 1.6°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your identity and appearance.
- Neptune square Midheaven (orb 1.1°): blurs boundaries; double-check facts and promises, especially around your career and reputation.
- Pluto trine Ascendant (orb 1.6°): gives you power to transform calmly, especially around your identity and appearance.

Jupiter in Virgo, Saturn in Aries (R). Venus in Scorpio, Mars in Scorpio.

What to do with all this

- Pick one theme per quarter from the planet pages and the transit overview, and write one concrete action for it.
- Revisit the reflection prompts on your Sun, Moon and Venus pages every few months. Your answers will change.
- Use the Love and attraction and Career pages as discussion starters with a friend, partner or coach.
- Keep your birth-time question open: an exact time unlocks houses and the angles, which add the most personal layer.

Glossary

Short definitions of the terms used in this report.

Term	Meaning
Ascendant (rising sign)	The sign on the eastern horizon at birth; how you meet the world. Needs an exact birth time.
Midheaven (MC)	The highest point of the chart; career direction and public reputation.
Aspect	A specific angle between two planets (conjunction 0, sextile 60, square 90, trine 120, opposition 180 degrees) that links their themes.
Orb	How far an aspect is from exact. Smaller orbs are stronger.
Conjunction	Two bodies in the same place: their energies fuse.
Trine / Sextile	Flowing, supportive aspects (120 and 60 degrees).
Square / Opposition	Tension aspects (90 and 180 degrees) that create drive and need balancing.
Retrograde	When a planet appears to move backward from Earth; read as a more inward, reflective expression of that planet.
House	One of twelve areas of life, from the 1st (self) to the 12th (the unconscious).
Cusp	The starting degree of a house.
Sign ruler	The planet that governs a sign; where it sits tells you how the sign's themes unfold.
Element	Fire, Earth, Air or Water: the basic temperament of a sign.
Modality	Cardinal (initiates), Fixed (sustains) or Mutable (adapts).
Stellium	Three or more planets in one sign or house.
Grand trine	Three planets forming a triangle of trines.
T-square	An opposition with a third planet square to both.
Yod	Two planets sextile each other, both quincunx (150 degrees) a third.
Lunar node	The Moon's North Node marks a growth direction; the opposite South Node marks familiar habits.
Transit	The current position of a planet compared with your birth chart.
Synastry	Comparing two birth charts by looking at the aspects between them.
Composite chart	A chart for the relationship itself, built from the midpoints between two people's planets.
House overlay	Where one person's planets fall in the other person's houses.
Midpoint	The point exactly halfway (along the shorter arc) between two positions.
Placidus	A common house system based on time; used here when it is defined, otherwise Porphyry.

Method and limits

Positions are apparent geocentric ecliptic longitudes computed with the open-source astronomy-engine library from the date, time, time zone and place you entered, using the historical time-zone database to convert local time to UTC. Planet positions are typically accurate to a few arc-minutes; the Moon is the most time-sensitive body.

Houses use the Placidus system, falling back to Porphyry only where Placidus is undefined (very high latitudes). The lunar node is the mean node.

Aspects use these orbs: conjunction 8, opposition 8, trine 7, square 7, sextile 5 degrees, with 2 extra degrees when the Sun or Moon is involved. Transit hits are listed within a tight orb of a quarter of these values, sampled on the 15th of each month.

Interpretations are written from standard astrological symbolism and combine sign, house and aspect meanings. They are generalisations and cannot know your circumstances.
